APPORTIONMENT COMMISSION

1966 P.A. 261 AS AMENDED & MCLA 46.401

Within 60 days after the publication of the 2000 United States official decennial census figures the County Apportionment Commission shall apportion the county into not less than 5 nor more than 35 county commissioner districts as nearly equal population as is practicable and within the limits of Section 2.

The 2001 apportionment commission reviewed numerous plans representing 5 member districts through 10 member districts.

The apportionment committee unanimously favored the 7-district plan. The adopted apportionment divides only Brooks Township and allows representation of the greater population increase in the county while reducing the number of townships represented in one district thus permitting greater representations.

The 7 commissioner districts became effective January 1, 2003, remaining in effect through December 31, 2012.

NEWAYGO COUNTY HISTORY

The Ordinances of 1784, 1785, and the Northwest Ordinance of 1787 established the Land Survey system, which became the basis for future land development in the United States. The Land Survey System established the concept of the county government practiced today in Michigan. The Northwest Ordinance (1787) established 5 1/4 states: Illinois, Indiana, Michigan, Ohio, Wisconsin and part of Minnesota. The ordinance served as a governmental basis in those states. Thus, Newaygo County and its government are a product of the Northwest Ordinance of 1787.

Newaygo County was organized in 1851, and thought to be named for a Chippewa Chief, who was a signer of the Saginaw Treaty of 1819.

In 1928, Newaygo County was the first county to have a fall color tour.

One of West Michigan's most popular all-year vacation centers, Newaygo County features a winding network of large and small streams, many lakes, unexcelled scenic beauty and modern accommodations. There are 234 lakes, 356 miles of rivers and streams and hundreds of acres of beautifully wooded countryside to provide activities for all recreational interests.

Newaygo County is at the peak of its beauty during October, when nature stages its annual color show.

With the snow and ice of winter, the lure of Newaygo County is felt by those who enjoy outdoor sports such as cross country skiing and snowmobiling. Ice fishing is offered on the numerous lakes or the backwaters of Croton and Hardy Dams.
